ABYSSINIA.

LONDON, February 16.—The New York Herald's special advices from headquarters of the British army in Abyssinia state that King Theodore is at his camp near the palace of Magdala, where the English captives are confined. The Abyssinian Monarch is said to be in a bad strait in a military point of view. An engagement between the two armies is imminent, and may take place at any moment.

Very few of the disaffected native chiefs now acknowledge any fealty to Theodore. The chief Kassi, ruler of the Tigra District, openly courts the favor of Major General Napier. General Napier fears that this chief, whose political character is bad, aims at a secret attack on him, and consequently seeks to arrange and perfect a binding treaty of alliance with him so as to hold him answerable for his future acts.

Thirty-five thousand British, of all classes, have been landed at Zohla, and the advance of the Queen's army has reached to within two days' march of Autalo, half-way towards Magdala, from the shore line, where it is very probable the expected battle will take place. The Egyptians, with a contingent embracing many Turks, are very near to Magdala, but they use no caution, and still march on in a reckless manner without the sanction of the superior officers of the English army. The English in the interior number about twenty thousand. The troops suffered considerably from the heat of the weather.

Dispatches from Senafe announce that the British expeditionary corps had occupied Addegraft, and reports reached Senafe that the advance had reached Reral and Talata. It was also announced from the interior that the natives who had revolted against King Theodore were again submitting to his authority.

ENGLAND.

LONDON, February 17.—In the House of Commons this evening Earl Mayo, late Lord Naas' Chief Secretary for Ireland, informed the members that the Government was preparing an Irish Reform Bill, and would be ready to lay it before the House on the 9th of March. Other measures in regard to Ireland, he said, would be brought forward on the 25th.

Sir Charles Bright called attention to the scheme for placing telegraphic wires under Government control, and asked whether any action had been taken, or if it was proposed by the Ministry to take any action to that end. Mr. Geo. Hunt, under Secretary of the Treasury, replied that it was the intention of the Government to purchase the lines of telegraph in Great Britain, and he promised the plan for effecting that change, which was being matured in the Treasury office, would be submitted to the House within a week.

A motion was made for a second reading of the bill for the suspension of the writ of habeas corpus.

Hon. Mr. Fortescue, member for Andover, said he thought the motion proved that the administration of affairs in Ireland was wrong and greatly needed reform.

Sir Henry Winston, member for Waterford City, said the bill was an outrage upon Catholics, shut out as they were from their rightful share in the government.

Earl Mayo made an explanation in regard to the case of George Francis Train. He said the policeman who arrested him had received general instructions to watch persons arriving at Queenstown from the United States, and to stop all suspicious porties. When the trunk of George Francis Train was examined copies of his own speeches on Ireland were found, which led to his arrest on suspicion. He was finally released on giving a pledge that he would make no speeches, and do no act in sympathy with the Fenian cause.

SOUTH AMERICA.

LONDON, Feb. 17.—Private letters from Paraguay, dated January 18th, represent the prospects of the Paraguayans continued to improve. Lopez was taking the offensive and had twice bombarded the Brazilian camp on the Parana with effect.

The steamer from Rio also brings the following news: The internal troubles of the Argentine Confederation were increasing. The powerful State of Eutrerioa had joined Ecosa Rio in revolt against the federal government.

D. Marco Paz, Vice President of the Argentine Confederation, and President of the Senate, is dead.

Mr. CONCKLIN presented the resolutions of a meeting of citizens of Detroit, on the rights of American citizens abroad.

Mr. FRELINGHUYSEN and Mr. SUMNER each presented petitions of freedmen, praying that they be sent to Liberia.

Mr. POMEROY presented a memorial from the South Carolina Convention, asking for aid to the Port Royal Railroad Company.

Mr. TRUMBULL presented a memorial from the citizens of Illinois, asking for aid in the construction of deep water communication between Lake Michigan and the Mississippi River. All of these memorials were appropriately referred.

Mr. TRUMBULL, from the Committee on Judiciary, reported a substitute for the House bill which was referred to the Committee December 19th, providing that hereafter any election authorized by the Reconstruction act of March 23d, 1867, shall be decided by a majority of the votes actually cast, and at the election at which the question of adoption or rejection of any constitution is submitted any person duly registered may vote in any part of the State, in which he shall be registered, where he may reside at the time of said election, upon the presentation of his certificate of registration, under such regulations as the District Commanders may provide.

Mr. TRUMBULL introduced a bill, which was referred to the Committee on Judiciary, defining the jurisdiction of the Courts of the United States in certain cases. It affirms that repeated decisions of the Supreme Court have decided the judicial power of the United States does not embrace political power. It declares all Courts of the United States in the administration of justice shall be bound by the decisions of the political department of Government on political questions, and that it rests with Congress to decide what government is the established one of a State. It is further declared that no civil State government, republican in form, exists in the States of Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana, Florida, Arkansas and Texas, and that no civil governments in either of said States shall be recognized as a valid or legal State governments either by the executive or judicial power of the United States until Congress shall provide, or until such State Government is represented in Congress; and it is further affirmed that the Reconstruction act of March 2d, 1867, and acts supplemental thereto are political in their character, and the propriety or validity of which no judicial tribunal is competent to question, and the Supreme Court of the United States is hereby prohibited from taking jurisdiction of any case growing out of the execution of said acts in either of said States until such States shall be represented in Congress, or until Congress shall recognize the State government as republican in form. All such cases pending in said Court shall be dismissed, and all acts authorizing an appeal by writ of error, habeas corpus or other proceedings, to bring before said Court for review any case, civil or criminal, or other proceedings arising out of the execution of the said reconstruction acts, or authorizing appeal from a Circuit Court in a habeas corpus proceeding to the Supreme Court, or which authorizes the Supreme Court to issue a writ of habeas corpus to bring before it for review any judgment of a law court in habeas corpus cases, are hereby repealed.

MR. WILSON reported from the Military Committee a bill for the gradual reduction of the army, by discontinuing unnecessary grades therein.

Mr. EDWARDS from the Committee on Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill for the further security of equal rights in the District of Columbia, introduced a bill to regulate the presentation of bills to the President and the return of the same, stating that the Committee was unanimous in its favor.

It provides that the ten days within which the President is required by the Constitution to return bills not approved by him shall be deemed the ten calender days (Sundays excepted) next after their receipt, and shall be computed by excluding the day on which he receives them and including the tenth day there after. The adjournment of Congress, which shall prevent the return by the President of any such bill to the House in which it originated, shall be construed to be the final adjournment of a session. In case of the adjournment of either House to a particular day, it shall be lawful for the President to return a bill with objections, or send a message announcing its signature, to the office of the Secretary of the Senate or Clerk of the House, as the case may be, and such return or sending of a message shall be considered to have the same effect as if the House in which the bill originated were in session.

Mr. BUCKALEW objected and it went over.

The resolution asking the Secretary of the Treasury for information relative to the abandonment of the Dennistown cotton cases was adopted.

The Senate considered the resolution for the admission of Mr. Thomas, of Maryland.

Mr. COLE advocated it, while Mr. Mr. DRAKE gave notice that under the amendment Mr. Thomas could not take the oath or hold his seat.

Mr. MYERS said the bill was defeated by false statements, and he would report it again with the proviso that if ever the patent came into possession of the American Screw Company it should be void.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the legislative, &c., appropriation bill. Mr. Butler's amendment providing for a mission to Greece was adopted.

Mr. WILLIAMS moved to strike out the missions of Ecuador, New Grenada, Bolivia, Venezuela, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Honduras, Argentine Confederation, Paraguay and Salvador. This resolution was debated at length.

Mr. LOGAN offered in ridicule an amendment authorizing the Secretary of State to enter into negotiations for the purchase of empires, kingdoms, rebellions, wars, volcanoes, icebergs, etc., which was ruled out of order.

A vote was taken separately on each of Mr. Williams' amendments and they were rejected.

Mr. BROOKS moved an appropriation for the mission to Rome. Rejected by a vote of 48 to 59.

WASHINGTON,

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, February 17, 1868.

OPINION IN THE M'ARDLE CASE.

The Supreme Court to-day overruled the motion heretofore made to dismiss the application in the McArdle case for want of jurisdiction. The case will therefore come up for argument on its merits as previously arranged on the first Monday of March.

THE M'ARDLE CASE.

In the case of McArdle, the Supreme Court to-day overruled the motion to dismiss the appeal for want of jurisdiction. The Chief Justice in the delivery of the opinion held that under the act of February 5th, 1867, an appeal lies from the judgment of a Circuit Court in an original case of habeas corpus to the Supreme Court of the United States. Upon the other point made in the argument, that McArdle was in military custody, charged with a military offence, and that the jurisdiction conferred by the act of February 5, 1867, being additional, therefore the Circuit Court of Mississippi had no jurisdiction of McArdle under act of 1867, the court expressed no opinion, but held there were questions going to show the jurisdiction of the Circuit Court which would come upon their minutes on final argument, on the first Monday in March next.

Outrage Upon Jews in Roumania.

A letter from Vienna contains the following:

"A fresh outrage on Jews has taken place at Birlat, a large straggling place, half village, half town, of about 15,000 inhabitants, of whom 3,000 or 4,000 are Jews, situate about seventy miles north of Galatz. This place elected about a month ago as deputy to the Chamber at Bucharest one Vernoff, a priest and monk of the Greek Church, having immense influence among the lower orders of his district, and famous for his impassioned sermons and speeches against the Jews. On the evening of the 5th of January this priest died, and from the previous Saturday his doctor expressed the opinion that he was suffering from poison, said to have been given him by a German woman, at whose locanda he took his meals daily, she having been bribed to this by the Jews with four hundred ducats. As yet no one believes in the poisoning. An altercation on the subject having arisen in a coffee-house kept by a Jew, led to an attack by the Moldavian shopkeepers and poorer people of the place on every shop and house belonging to the Jews. The doors and windows were beaten in, the inmates shamefully beaten and ill-treated, and their property entirely destroyed and stolen, and this went on in a fine moonlight evening from 6 P. M. to midnight, when the rioters gave in exhausted. The prefect and other officials who tried to interfere were beaten off by the men.

"The riot would have been resumed next day, without doubt, but the commandant of the place, who had some fifty dorabanses (militia) under his orders, had obtained leave by telegraph from Bucharest during the night to fire on the rioters. This soon became known, and an end was put to the shameful outrage. The value of the property stolen is not less than 175,000fr., and destroyed much more. I left Birlat on the 12th of January, and then the commandant of the district was in charge of the place with a military force, and had over sixty persons in prison charged with being concerned in these riots. The government have promised a strict inquiry into the matter and punishment for those concerned; but the result will, I fear, be about nil."

Spontaneous Combustion in Theatres.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette writes: "I was lately conversing with one of our most eminent scene painters upon the late catastrophe at Her Majesty's Theatre, and he gave his decided opinion that the accident proceeded from spontaneous combustion. He stated that larges heaps of the debris and refuse of the painting and property rooms were often swept up together, and left to accumulate for years, and that he had often had reason to complain of this practice and to point out the danger of it. He related one instance in which such a heap had stood in a theatre for a long period, and after many complaints he induced the authorities to remove it, and the moment a spade was thrust into it it burst into flames. I see that in the Times a correspondent puts aside spontaneous combustion because scene painting is done with water color, which is not inflammable; but the danger, though sometimes existing even in the painting-room, lies more particularly in the property-room, where varnish and oil colors are largely used, and where scraps of oiled rag, tow, varnish, sawdust, and flue or fluff are swept up together with other matters. They only require to be damped, as is not an uncommon practice, for the purpose of laying the dust, to induce eventually spontaneous combustion. My informant also pointed to the case of Astley's Theatre, which he stated was burnt down somewhat in this way from the sweepings of the sawdust and stables; and from his experience, which is very great, he felt certain that many other theatres had been so burnt."

—In a recent pastoral Bishop Arthur Cleveland Coxe says:

"When I see the tawdry fashions, the costly vulgarity and wicked extravagance of the times, I feel sure that thousands of American women are strangers to the first law of refinement—simplicity in manners and attire.

"When I see that thousands of American women read the most shameful romances and the most degrading newspapers; frequent the vilest dramatic entertainments and join in dances to shocking to be named among Christians; I feel that Christian matrons are becoming too few, and that civilized heathenism is returning to the fields we have wrested from the Indians.

"When I read daily, of the most ungodly divorces and of crime against social purity and against human life itself, which are too gross to be mentioned more particularly, I feel that too many of our countrywomen are without God in the world, and that radical reforms are necessary in the systems of education on which the young women of America are dependent for their training.

"When I see thousands of households in which young girls are reared for a life of pleasure, without reference to duty, I cannot wonder at these results, nor at the misery in which they involve families and communities. Sow the wind and reap the whirlwind!

"As a christain Bishop, therefore, I make my appeal to you, Christian women, and I ask you to begin the reformation, by faithfully bearing your testimony against all that tends to the degredation of your sex, and the more so, when such crime is not only winked at, but receives countenance in circles which ought to be exemplary."

—The large penguins of the Antarctic Ocean exhibit a curious peculiarity in the place of deposit of the single egg laid by them. This instead of being placed in a nest, as with other birds, is held between the legs and feathers of the belly, and transported by the bird wherever it goes until hatched.

—A new gymnast of extraordinary strength has made his appearance at the Holborn Theatre, London. He makes a full swing upon the trapez holding the rope only by his teeth, and hanging by his feet, head downwards, he swings three men depending on the strength of his wrists.

—A long-bearded miller at Logan, Ohio, the other day day carelessly suffered his flowing honors to get caught in a revolving shaft. Bracing himself promptly, his beard went by the roots. He will hereafter have but little more trouble in shaving than before.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

MISSIONARY MEETINGS.

Beaver Street M. E. Church Anniversary—Sermons and Addresses—Sunday School Anniversary of Prospect Street M. E. Mission.

The different Methodist Episcopal congregations in the two cities are exerting themselves to raise liberal contributions for the support of the Missions under the Church Home and Foreign work. In some cities in the East the churches are increasing their offerings over last year, in order to meet the demand of the Parent Missionary Society. Here the same disposition is manifested, but so little has been done by the churches yet, that we are unable to report. Last Sunday week Christ Church gave a large sum, the influence of which is already felt for good.

Sunday, Beaver street M. E. Church devoted the entire day and evening to the promotion of the cause. This time-honored church is the oldest of that body in Allegheny, and has furnished the nucleus of members for two or three other churches on that side of the river. Notwithstanding the depletion in membership and hearers, to build up other churches, the charge did nobly on Sunday for the cause. At the morning hour the pastor, Rev John W. Baker, preached an excellent and appropriate sermon for the occasion, in which he discussed the spread and triumph of the Gospel. At the close of the sermon, contributions were taken for the cause. In the afternoon the Sunday School anniversary took place. Rev. W. H. Locke, pastor of Liberty street M. E. Church, delivered an address replete with instruction and interest. During the course of his speech he alluded touchingly to the fact that he had been a scholar in the Sunday School connected with that church, and that over a dozen years ago the offical body had honored him by licensing him to preach, and recommending him to the Conference as a suitable person to enter the itinerant ministry. Rev. L. McGuire of Wesley Chapel, in this city, also made some well timed remarks. The evening appointment, by request, was filled by Rev. Dr. Nesbit, editor of the Pittsburgh Christian Advocate, who preached a scholarly discourse, in which he presented in a lucid and instructive manner the claims upon the church to sustain the cause of Missions. At the close of the same, quite a good sum was obtained. The grand aggregate for the day amounted to six hundred and fifty dollars. The pastor, Rev. Mr. Baker, was well sustained in his efforts by C. C. Boyle, Arthur Hobson, W. Gibson, and other active layman of the charge.

The afternoon of Sabbath last was a high time at the Prospect M. E. Mission Sunday School, in this city, on the occasion of their annual missionary anniversary. Addresses of much interest, and well adapted to the occasion and school, were delivered by Rev. Dr. L. F. Morgan, of Christ M. E. Church, and Rev. John H. Ebbert. The sum of three hundred and thirty-three dollars was raised, which is more than double what was contributed by this school last year. This is praiseworthy. The school is under the care of Christ Church, and is conducted by W. W. Wallace and Florence Kramer, Esqrs., Superintendents. We believe Mr. John Fullerton, and Mr. P. H. Hunker, two merchants in our city, are also associated with Messrs. Kramer and Wallace as officers. The singing is represented as being very fine, and added much to the interest of the occasion. This school is one of the pioneer mission schools in this city, and reflects credit upon those in the management.

To Housekeepers.

The world moves, that's certain. The days of hand-beating of carpets, searching for green swards, waiting for sunny days, &c., is all over, and housekeepers can now have their old carpets cleaned and made almost as good as new at small cost. Mr. G. L. McClintock is the sole proprietor of the only Steam Carpet Beating Machine west of the mountains, which has a patent for the "flexible whips" by which the carpet is thoroughly cleaned of dust, moths, or their larvæ. The carpet is put in the cleaner just as it comes from the floor, no ripping apart required, and it comes back without one particle of shrinkage, and what is still better, as no water is used in the cleansing process the colors are left as perfect as when new, save the natural fading from wear. The work can be done in all weathers, without regard to shower or sunshine. In the eastern cities ten years experience has reduced the business to a science and full guarantee can be given of rendering entire satisfaction. Those who may desire their carpets renovated had better do so early to avoid the rush, which we confidently predict will be the case about moving time. Orders left at his office at the family grocery of T. O. Morgan, 179 Liberty street, or addressed to P. O. Box 473, will meet with prompt attention. Express wagon calling for and returning carpets when cleaned. His prices are as follows:

Cocoa Matting......	8	cents	per yard.
Ingrain and 3 Ply..	10	"	"
Brussels............	12	"	"
Velvets............	15	"	"
Wilton and Axm'tr.	18	"	"

Joseph Horne & Co Nos. 77 and 79 Market Street.

Continue to offer their immense stock of trimmings, hosiery, notions, millinery, woolen and fancy goods at greatly reduced rates, in order to make room for an extensive spring stock. The entire stock was purchased while the eastern markets were sorely depressed by the financial panic which temporarily threatened the business men of that section, but which passed over and has left trade improved, as is evidenced by the upward tendency of all goods in this line. Although goods have materially advanced, this house has determined to keep their prices down and to afford their patrons a full share in the advantages they obtained. Parties who buy to sell again, as well as retail patrons, should pay Joseph Horne & Co. a purchasing visit, and be convinced of the character of bargains prevailing.

Serious Accident.

A serious accident occurred yesterday at the Outer Depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, which will probably result in the death of George Bell, a colored man, aged about fifty-seven years. Bell was engaged in whitewashing the ceiling of the machine shop, for which purpose a platform about twenty-five feet in height had been erected, on which he was standing. He was working with his back near one edge of the platform, and taking a step backwards, fell, striking the planer in his descent, breaking his left leg in three places and otherwise seriously injuring him. The injured man was conveyed to his residence on Logan street, where he was attended by Dr. Hamilton. He has a family of six children, who are dependant upon him for support.

Larceny.

John Timmony made information before Mayor Blackmore against William Furguson, charging him with larceny. The property stolen was a coat valued at twenty-five dollars and a pair of gloves at three dollars, belonging to Mr. Dickinson, and was stolen on the morning of the Fourth street fire from a house in the vicinity of the fire. The prosecutor, who is a policeman, having reason to believe the defendant guilty of the theft, made the information and procured a search warrant, and repaired to the residence of Furguson, in the Fifth ward, where the property was found. The accused was held for a hearing.

Trying the Locks.

On Saturday afternoon Mr. Davidson, of the firm of Mair & Davidson, Wood street, while sitting in the Postoffice observed a boy come to the lock boxes in the Postoffice and try the locks of several of them in such a suspicious manner as to attract his attention. He would try the key in one box and then come to the door to see if any one was observing him. He finally succeeded in finding a box that his key would unlock and started away. Mr. D. followed him, caught him and brought him back to the Postoffice, where the keys were taken from him.

False Pretence.—Mrs. McIntyre made information before the Mayor, charging Hugh Wilson with obtaining boarding to the amount of $30 under false pretence. It appears that Wilson under false representations succeeded in running a bill to that amount, and on Saturday during Mrs. McIntyre's absence went to the house and got his trunk. He was arrested and taken before the Mayor, but settled the matter by paying the bill and costs, and was discharged.

The Petroleum Association held their first annual banquet at the Monongahela House this afternoon. Guests are expected from Oil City, Philadelphia and other points.

THE COURTS.

United States Court—Judge McCandless.

MONDAY, Feb. 17.—The case of the United States vs. Peter Schlegel, indicted for tampering with a witness, was taken up. After a jury had beem impannelled the counsel for the defense objected to the indictment. The District Attorney asked and obtained leave to amend. The jury were discharged, and the case was continued until the next term of Court.

The District Attorney entered a nolle pros. in the case of R. P. & J. Park, indicted for carrying on the business of retail dealers without license.

The case of Peter Bryning, indicted for receiving beer unstamped, and for aiding in the removal of the same, was taken up. The jury found a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was discharged.

On motion of the United States Attorney the libels against six gallons of whisky, owned by Henry Ralston, the stills, etc., in the distillery of Charles McClure, and two hundred and ten barrels of oil owned by John F. Smith, were dismissed.

The jurors were discharged from further attendance until Monday next.

District Court—Judge Hampton.

MONDAY, Feb 17.—The Court adjourned at noon, the list for the day having been gone through with.

Samuel McClean, Jr. vs. Thomas A. Rowley. Verdict for the plaintiff for $500.

Michael L. Malone vs. William Culp, J. G. McCandless and Charles G. Jeremy. This was a suit to recover balance alleged to be due for the construction of the triumphal arch over Pennsylvania avenue on the occasion of the Soldiers' Convention in September, 1866. After the jury had been sworn, the case was withdrawn for settlement.

Jarvis, Halpin & Co., vs. A. F. Chatoney. On motion of R. B. Roberts, Esq., rule on plaintiffs to show cause why attachment issued should not be dissolved. Reason—The defendant was not and is not a non-resident, within the meaning of the act of Assembly in such a case made and provided, and a foreign attachment would not lie.

An affidavit of Henry Grede was filed. It sets forth that affiant is well acquainted with A. F. Chatoney and had been in employment for the last three years as a clerk in said Chatoney's establishment, and as an assistant in repairing machinery: that said Chatoney left him on the 31st ult., stating to affiant that he was going to New York and that he would return on Tuesday or Wednesday following, provided he did not go to Boston—if he went to Boston it would perhaps be Friday or Saturday following before he returned, but that affiant has not seen him and does not know his whereabouts: that said Chatoney has resided here for a number of years, and kept house and resided with his family; that his family are still here and residing at No. 63 First street, Pittsburgh, and affiant never heard of any intention on Chatoney's part to change his residence. And affiant further averred that he has no interest in the application.

Argument List.

Judges Sterret and Mellon were engaged yesterday disposing of the argument list in the Common Pleas and Quarter Sessions, and will be similarly engaged to-day.

Amusements.

OPERA HOUSE.—There was another large audience last night on the thirteenth presentation this season of the georgeous spectacular drama of the Black Crook. It will remain on the boards every evening this week, but no longer.

LOGRENIA.—The great wizard, Logrenia, with his marvelous troupe of trained cats, birds and mice, has arrived and will open at Masonic Hall to-night with the first of his novel entertainments. He has received the praise and endorsement of the press of the principal cities of the country, and no doubt will be welcomed to our city by a large audience.

Nasby as a "Jour."—The editor of the Monroe (Wisconsin) Sentinel, in a recent issue of his paper gives recollections of his experience with Petroleum V. Nasby (Mr. David Locke) as a "jour printer" in Pittsburgh, working in the Evening Chronicle office. There are a number of "old printers" hereabouts who have a distinct recollection of Mr. Locke and remember him as a "fellow of most infinite jest." Such is our remembrance of him, when "sticking type" in the office stated, in the upper story of Singerly's building, (back room,) Third street.

Notwithstanding the upward tendency of the New York dry goods market, the enterprising firm of Bates & Bell, No. 21 Fifth street, continue to offer great bargains to their patrons in all goods peculiar to their line of business. Ladies need not be reminded that at this establishment are kept the most fashionable articles of dress materials, white goods, housekeeping goods, shawls, &c., &c., and during the continuance of low prices all should avail themselves of the opportunity to lay in a full supply.

Surety of the Peace.—J. S. Johnston made information before Alderman McMasters, yesterday, against George Applegate for surety of the peace. The parties reside in Temperanceville, and sometime since a difficulty occurred between them when Applegate struck Johnston with a beer glass and knocked him down, and now it is alleged he threatens to take his life if he does not leave the place. We did not learn the origin of the difficulty. Applegate was committed for Court.

Chastising His Apprentice.—Thomas Lanhardt, who is apprenticed to Mr. Kaufman, a barber in the Fifth ward, made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday, charging Kaufman with assault and battery. It appears that Lanhardt is a mischievious boy, and for some of his pranks was chastised by his master. A hearing was had in the case which resulted in the discharge of the defendant.

Temperance Lecture.—The first of a series of lectures before the Allegheny Temperance League will be delivered this (Tuesday) evening by the Rev. J. W. Witherspoon, in the Rev. Dr. Pressly's church, Diamond. Subject—How can the attention and interest of the masses be best secured, so as to promote the temperance reform?

False Pretense.—Thomas Potts, a carpet-weaver in Pitt township, made information before Alderman M'Masters, yesterday, charging William French with false pretence. It appears that the defendant obtained a quantity of carpet from the prosecutor by false and fraudulent representation. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

A Bagnio Broken Up—George McKiel made information before Mayor Blackmore against Mrs. Bliss, Henry Bliss, and others, residing on Wayne street, charging them with keeping a bawdy house. The accused were arrested and held for a hearing.

Sunday Gambling.—Mayor Drum's police, on Sunday, made a descent on a house on East lane, near Main street, Allegheny, and captured a party of gamblers, four in number, who were fined four dollars and costs each.

Grant Club in Lawrenceville.—A meeting was called at Robinson's Hall, Lawrenceville, last evening, for the purpose of forming a Grant Club. Owing to some misunderstanding the Hall was not secured, or at least not opened until after eight o'clock, in consequence of which many citizens who had collected did not remain. Those who remained until the Hall was finally opened, organized by calling Mr. S. J. Wainright to the Chair, and Mr. S. W. Reynolds to act as Secretary.

In consequence of the attendance not being as large as expected, and not as great as it would have been but for the circumstance stated, it was decided, on motion of Mr. J. W. Riddell, to do no other business than the selection of a President for the proposed Club, whereupon Mr. S. J. Wainright was nominated and unanimously elected.

The meeting then adjourned to meet on Tuesday evening next at the same place.

Attempted Suicide.—John Merritt, a young man residing in McKeesport, it is stated attempted to commit suicide on Sunday by taking laudanum. It appears, however, that the young man was careful to notify the family with which he boarded of his intentions, in order, we presume, to have them witness his tragic end. Of course he did not expect that they would be so foolish as to in any way interfere with his designs upon his life. The cause of the unhappy affair, we learn, was the interference of a young lady's parents in a love affair to which the young man was a party.

An Editor Retired.—A. W. Campbell, Esq., the leading editor, during the past twelve years, of the Wheeling Intelligencer, has disposed of his interest in that enterprising journal and retired to private life, at least for a season. Messrs. Frew, Hagans & Hall, the remaining partners, will hereafter conduct the paper. Mr. Campbell carries with him into private life our best wishes. We have ever regarded him as one of the ablest editors and hardest workers of West Virginia, one who added much to the profession with which he is recognized.

Circulars Stolen.—James Dorly, William Lewis, James Hooper, John Fitzgerald and John Brickly, were charged before Mayor Blackmore, on oath of Dr. S. Aborn, with the larceny of circulars or handbills, valued at fifty dollars. They were arrested and held for a hearing.

Pay Up Your Taxes.—Alderman Butler, of the Sixth ward, is after delinquent tax payers with a sharp stick, and those in that district in arrears will do well to pay up at once, and thus save themselves trouble and costs.

Fined.—John McShaffrey, Daniel McShaffrey and Daniel Efferton were arrested by officer Byrne in the Fifth ward, on a charge of street loafing, Sunday, and this morning they were fined $25 and costs.

Wheeler & Wilson's Improved Lock Stitch Sewing Machine—The simplest and best. The only machine using Crystal Cloth Presser with its attachments. Sales room No. 27 Fifth street. SMW.

Death of an old Merchant.—Mr. Hugh McShane, an old and respected retired merchant of this city, departed this life on Sunday night last.

The Yosemite Valley—A Monster Juniper Tree—Ruins of Aztec Cities.

[From the Alta Californa, Jan. 11]

Mr. J. M. Hutchings, the pioneer, more generally known to the community of late years through the association of his name with the great Yosemite Valley, where he now resides, is at present on a visit to San Francisco. He tells us that on his visit to the "Nevada Fall," he, with a companion from this city, ascended to the summit of the "Cap of Liberty" peak, to the north of the fall, and there, growing in the fissure of the rock, away up under the very clouds, found a juniper tree, the trunk of which measured ten feet two inches in diameter. When we remember that the juniper is, in most countries, a very slow grower, and at the best a mere bush, hardly rising to the dignity of a tree at all, the statement of the immense size of this one appears almost incredible, and some have been inclined to doubt the exactness of the measurement. Those who are acquainted with Mr. Hutchings will not, however, doubt the correctness of his statement for a moment, and we are inclined to think that the age of the tree is likely to be very much less than those acquainted with the slow growth of the tree in other lands would naturally estimate it. On the elevated plain lying around the base of the great mountain chains of Central Arizona may be seen forests of the juniper cedar extending to the limit of vision. The trees in these forests are scattered like apple trees in a New York apple orchard, and are never of great hight, but the trunks are often of considerable size. We have seen thousands which would measure from one to five feet in diameter, and would yield several cords of beautiful wood. They are, however, almost valueless for timber, as the trunk is invariably but a few feet in length—several large limbs of minor trunks branching out as from five to ten feet from the earth, the top limbs spreading out over a space entirely disproportionate to the hight of the trees. This country is thickly dotted with the ruins of Aztec or Toltec cities and fortifications, in some of which timbers exposed to the storms and blazing sun of that trying climate are yet to be seen in a good state of preservation, showing that the builders must have disappeared at a comparatively recent date. Juniper trees of immense size are found on these ruins in some places, showing that in that climate at least the tree is of more rapid growth then is generally supposed. Nevertheless, the Yosemite juniper is a remarkable tree, and worth the attention of the scientific.

A Broken-Down Old Man.

And it came to pass after the death of his wife, and the days of mourning being ended, that Jonathan became sick himself, and he called his sons and daughters unto him, and spake these words unto them: "Behold, thy mother is dead; bury me also with her, for my life is burdened by distress and by reason of great anguish," and he placed his hand upon and blessed them. And it came to pass that when his children heard these words, that they were sore, and said one to another, "What shall we do?" And the eldest spake these words unto them: "Behold, there is a man in the great city of New York who healeth all manner of pain in a moment; and behold, we will take our father thither;" and when they heard these words they brought forth bags of gold, silver and precious stones as a present to the Doctor in the great city! And Jehu spake yet again and said: "Behold, the great Doctor will take no gold, silver or precious stones, but removeth all pain without cost for rich or poor." And they saddled their beasts and took the old man and journeyed many days, and came to the great city of New York, and they lifted the old man and carried him tenderly unto Dr. Wolcott, in Chatham Square, No. 170. And the Doctor looked upon their father, and saw that he was very sick and nigh unto death. And the Doctor led him into a private room and commanded that his garments be all taken off. And it came to pass, after he was stripped, that the Doctor took a liquid called Pain Paint, and put a brush into it and painted him; and behold, while the Doctor was yet painting, the old man recovered and stood up, and immediately walked as beforetimes. And the children gathered together and embraced him with great joy. They also filled their bags with bottles of Pain Paint, and took their departure with music and gladness, and they told the people as they journeyed. And the people marvelled greatly; but when they saw the bottles of Pain Paint which they had bought, they offered money, and bought also for their own sick folk. And certain men called druggists sent to the great city and bought much Pain Paint to sell, which removed all pains of any nature: and they bought, also, much Instant Pain Annihilator, for Catarrh in the head. Behold, it is now sold everywhere for 25c., 50c., $1 and $5 per bottle, and has only white wrappers on the bottles, not brown wrappers. Tested free of cost, at 622 Arch street, Philadelphia, in the Drug Store.

—At a ball given recently at the Hotel de Ville, in Paris, 700 white and rose camellia trees were employed to decorate the apartments, which trees were sent from the city gardens. There are now 2,000,000 camelia plants in the camelia houses of these gardens, which cover a superficies of about 53,000 square yards, which space being found insufficient for the supply required, underground houses are being constructed, the excavations for that purpose extending over 24,000 square yards of ground. Four head gardeners superintend this vast flower manufactory.

The Arabian Doctor—A Card.

MESSRS. EDITORS GAZETTE: I this day noticed an article in your journal, which, although likely to cause my title and business considerable notoriety, is still of such a character as would be likely to prove prejudicial to my heretofore good name, and to my present large practice. In reply, I would respectfully say that I do not claim Arabian birth, neither do I have any tricks or traps, and I freely invite all who may have interested themselves by yesterday's article to call and see my style of business.

The Pittsburgh Gazette

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1868.

WITH such uniformity has the result followed, that as soon as a man has been convicted of counterfeiting the national currency the public has confidently looked for his speedy pardon by President Johnson. And this expectation has not been disappointed. Almost every offender of this class has been set at liberty, to renew his crimes. The whole number thus treated approaches one hundred. Is it sympathy that moves the President to this reckless clemency? Or do considerations, not of weakness, but of a still more flagrant character, control him?

MR. TRUMBULL has introduced into the Senate an important bill, based upon, and in accordance with, the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the Reconstruction cases. It affirms the law to be as the Court has decided; that all Courts of the United States shall be bound by the action of Congress as the political department of the government; that no civil government, republican in form, exists in the States lately in revolt; and that such governments shall not have judicial or executive recognition until Congress shall so provide or until such States shall be represented in the two Houses.

FROM the President of the Petroleum Board we gather some facts important to be stated. 1. That Governor Geary had not promised any one the appointment of Inspector of Oils, in case the bill as originally introduced, or as it might be modified, should pass the Legislature. 2. When he was assured by the representations made to him by the Petroleum Committee of the extortion the bill as framed would inflict on persons engaged in the Oil Trade, and of the tendency of that extortion to drive business out of the Commonwealth, he was amazed and indignant. 3. That he rested his repugnance to interfere by the veto perogative, in case the bill as it first stood, should become a law, on the ground that no constitutional point was involved, and that the details of the law would be clearly within the discretion of the Houses. This explanation is authentic; and cannot fail to put the Governor in a satisfactory and commendable light before the public.

REPORT avouches that General MCCLELLAN is to succeed Mr. ADAMS as Minister to London, provided the Senate will consent. The retiring Minister is regarded in Europe as perhaps the ablest representative this country has ever had. His career has been pre-eminently successful. Illustrious by birth, attainments and services, he will carry into retirement not only the respect of his country, but the regards of all abroad with whom he has come into social or official contact. His prospective successor is conspicuous for failure. In the chaos of affairs, by accidental or fortuitous circumstances, elevated to a high and responsible rank for which neither experience or genius fitted him, he proved an architect of disaster, beyond parallel in history. Found wanting in his chosen profession, for which he has capacities, if for anything, it is now seriously proposed to start him on a fresh career, requiring peculiar natural aptitudes as well as special training, the possession of which he has never indicated. This may be taken as a sad example of party infatuation.

PRESIDENTIAL.

The Missouri Democrat, which has hitherto opposed the nomination of General GRANT to the Presidency by the Republican National Convention, has changed its tone, and now, not reluctantly consents, but warmly espouses his claims to the candidacy. It says:

> "When General Grant's nomination for the Presidency was urged on the ground of expediency merely, we earnestly opposed it. The Republican party cannot afford to buy a victory by a sacrifice of principles. When his nomination was urged because it would please those uncertain souls whose lack of real convictions of any kind makes them of no use to either party, we opposed it. No party can afford to buy mercenary allies at the cost of disgusting or disheartening faithful friends.
>
> "But circumstances have changed. Clouds that obscured Grant's fidelity have rolled away. We find that the sun, though hidden, was steadily shining. His nomination is no longer urged for the sake of expediency only. We no longer are told that his name will bring to our standard those whose accession were weakness. General Grant is being placed, as events unfold, in such a position as to command the hearty support of those who fight for principle alone. His nomination is now urged on the ground that he represents, more truly than any other possible candidate, the radical element of the Republican party."

So the Republican ranks close up. There is no longer any question or hesitancy as to who shall hold the first place on the Republican ticket. The debate is confined exclusively to the selection of the best man, all things considered, for the second place.

The Republicans of New York, in their State Convention, expressed a decided preference for Gov. FENTON. He has proved himself a true man and an able administrator, and if this preference should be ratified at Chicago there would be no holding back from accepting the choice, by Republicans anywhere.

In Pennsylvania three names have been presented for the vice-presidential honors—those of GEARY, CURTIN and GROW. Alike estimable in private life, and richly endowed by nature and experience for official usefulness, they have each special and distinct claims upon the public confidence and upon the support of the Republican party. Hence it is difficult to institute a comparison between them. Each has filled the peculiar situations to which destiny and the voice of the people assigned him, and filled them well.

Gov. GEARY is the only one of the three with a military record behind him. This is most brilliant—honorable to himself as his services were eminently useful to the nation. It was this record that drew towards him two years ago the sympathies of the people of his native State, and secured his elevation to the gubernatorial chair. In the canvass he developed unexpected oratorical powers, and dealt with intricate questions of national concernment with the cogency and power of an experienced statesman—showing that in his meditations, whether of the study or the field, he had mastered problems of deepest significance. In his administration of the affairs of the Commonwealth, he has so enlarged his reputation as to create a demand for his promotion to the broader field of national service.

Mr. A. G. CURTIN has entirely different antecedents. A lawyer by profession, he has been many years in the civil service of the Commonwealth. It was his lot, and the happiness of the people, to be in the gubernational chair when the Rebellion broke out. The eloquent popular orator soon disclosed superior capacities for administration; for arousing the people; for enlisting popular confidence; and for concentrating all the resources at command upon a single object. Not only in Pennsylvania, but throughout the Union, was his nodding plume, like that of NAVARRE, recognized in the van of the contest. Upon it rose and fell the hopes and expectations of our people. No loyal heart will ever forget the magic of that plume, or fail to recognize the tones of that superb voice that in many a great emergency was worth ten thousand men.

Mr. GROW has never been identified with State politics or administration. Cast, almost in his youth, into the national arena at Washington, he rose to the Speakership of the House of Representatives. Solid and luminous rather than dashing and brilliant, his career makes its appeal to the judgments instead of the enthusiasms of his fellow citizens. Clear-sighted, substantial, true to his convictions as the north star to the pole, there never has a shadow of doubt or uncertainty rested upon his character or conduct.

Upon which of these three the choice of the State Convention will fall, it is not easy to forecast. Nor is this necessary to the purpose before us. The contest between the respective supporters of these distinguished men is not acrimonious, but evinces a spirit of chivalrous rivalry which augurs well for the harmony of the party. Upon whichever of them the chance may fall, it will be worthily bestowed, and if that choice shall be ratified at Chicago there will be no hesitancy among the Republicans of Pennsylvania in accepting it as a decision inevitable between conflicting claims where the balance was so nice as to leave the result to Fortune.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

European Farms and Farming.

Since 1846 there has been a decrease in both the rural population and the number of proprietors in Great Britain. The number of voters, who register on account of property is very seriously diminished during the last thirty years, the total number of voters of that class being something less than four hundred thousand in 1864. This state of affairs contrasts wonderfully with that of France where there are 4,800,000 proprietors, (in England there are not 40,000,) in a population of 27,000,000. The various revolutions have so divided the ownership of France that there are very few large land holders such as are common in England, the average farm is but twenty-seven acres. The whole area of France is about 123,000,000 of acres, but 19,000,000 acres of which are waste and mountains; more than one-half of the whole area is arable land, and the rest is meadow land, vineyards, orchards and forest. Since 1788 the crop of wheat in France has been increased from 9 to 13 bushels per acre and is still progressive. By reclamation of ground and educated culture the produce of wheat and oats has been doubled, and the annual wheat crop runs about 100,000 bushels more than that of the United States.

The cattle of France within the last fifty years have increased from six and a half millions to more than ten millions. The sheep have increased some three millions in the same time, and now number 33,281,000. The swine are estimated at about 5,000,000. Besides all this France ships annually to England large amounts of eggs, fruit, butter and wine. This great prosperity of agricultural France in spite of the disastrous political revolutions is, says Prof. Fisher, mainly owing to the existence of the peasant population. Mr. Fisher ascribes the progress, health and vigor of the French peasants, who consume remarkably little animal food, to "the life-giving properties of their cheap ordinary wine." Such wine is procured for five cents a bottle, consists of pure juice, and nothing can improve it in cheapness or flavor.

In Holland farms rarely exceed fifty acres; but Holland sustains comfortably a population of three and a half million within an area of eight million acres; and in 1862 had some fifteen hundred thousand horses and cattle, nearly a million sheep, and twenty-seven hundred thousand swine. She exports annually from Rotterdam to England more than 165,000 head of cattle, which is about half of all that is imported into Great Britain.

The soil of Holland is light and sandy being mostly reclaimed from the ocean, yet it holds to-day $250,000,000 of the Austrian National debt and raises nearly enough grain for its own consumption.

The average size of farms in Switzerland is but twelve acres, the whole population of the country, is not as much as that of London and yet there are more freeholders in Switzerland than in the whole of England.

The average farm in Belgium is but 7½ acres and yet it is probably the most prosperous region of Europe, its size is about that of Massachusetts and Connecticut united, its soil is light yet it has a population of 400 to the square mile about one fifth of whom are proprietors.

The Kitchen Garden.

[From the Germantown Telegraph.]

Now that we have long evenings and plenty of time to write, let me say a few brief words to my sister Housekeepers respecting the Kitchen Garden, which has so often been referred to by the editor, in terms which have elicited at least a portion of the attention hoped for. I am very sure that if wives were to present the case to their husbands in more earnestness than they are accustomed to do, we should see more extensive and abundant vegetable enclosures near our dwellings. In looking about us, in this community, how few really good gardens meet our eye? How few enjoy through the season as they could and should, the fine fresh vegetables which are so easily to be produced? Why should not every household have lettuce and radishes until the hot summer days cut them short? Peas, of three or four varieties ripening, one crop after another, until we are tired of them. Also, beans, carrots, and especially corn. Of this latter, by planting the earliest kind, following it with the Stowell Evergreen, making one planting of the former and four of the latter, at intermissions of ten to twelve days, we can have sweet corn every day until frost. So with fruits. I could not love a husband who would not provide for his family a variety of the best fruits. In every garden should be found strawberries, raspberries, blackberries, currants, gooseberries, pears and cherries. If our lords who care for the comfort of their families and for their own reputation, would only think that these things can be provided, at a little expense, they would certainly not allow next spring to pass without giving their hearts and hands in accomplishing it. How much we are indebted to the editor of the Telegraph for his constant efforts to impress all these things upon our minds, I am not prepared to estimate; but I can truly say that these efforts years ago, made a revolution in the home comforts of at least

ONE HOUSEKEEPER.

Feeding Stock from Stacks.

Many farmers, who make stock raising a special feature in their agricultural operations, are frequently deficient in barn accomodations, hence are compelled to resort to the stacking process. Stacks properly made, keep hay with very little damage from the elements, but when they are located, as is frequently the case, in the meadows where the grass is cut, a considerable loss necessarily results both in feed and manure. The loss is predicated on the supposition that these stacks are fed out in the meadows or fields where they are built. In this case considerable hay is blown off and lost by high winds; it is less satisfying to the cattle when they are compelled to feed while exposed to the wintry blast. Besides the droppings from the stock will, in a majority of cases, be deposited in some out of the way place where they have sought shelter, and not readily reclaimed for use the following spring. To prevent this expense and loss, it is only necessary to provide sufficient yarding room in the vicinity of the barn to accommodate the stock. Feed from the barn first till room is made for more hay. Throw in a stack and feed until room is made for another one. In this way the stock will have the advantage of the shelter supplied by the barns and sheds; will eat less and waste less, while the manure made will be deposited in a compass so narrow as not to involve the necessity of losing much or any of it. This winter removal of hay might be wholly obviated by properly adjusting the stacks about the barn and yard at the time of harvesting the crop. Much labor would be saved in this way, while supplying a grateful screen to the stock from the storms and beating winds of winter.

Finally, the practice of stacking hay in meadows and feeding it out there, is a great detriment should there chance to occur a sudden thaw, as the cattle will be sure to poach up the turf, destroying the continuity and velvety smoothness of the surface of the meadow—diminishing the succeeding crop, and impeding the labor of harvesting.—Rural New Yorker.

150 CONGRESS ST., BOSTON,
August 16, 1867.

Mr. S. Fletcher—Dear Sir: I have just read in the Farmer, your letter to Mr. Brown regarding Mr. Metcalf's method of curing hay by the employment of lime and salt. I was very busy when you called at our counting room, I failed to learn the true import or nature of your inquiries. It is evident considerable interest will be awakened in this subject, and therefore I hasten to present to your readers, a chemical view of the matter, which I trust is reliable.

If the quantities of salt and quick lime mentioned by Mr. Metcalf were mixed together, and sprinkled with water, double decomposition would result, and caustic soda and chloride of calcium would be formed. A mutual destruction takes place between the lime and salt, and birth is given to these new bodies. Caustic soda would be very hurtful to animals, even if afforded in small quantities. It is a powerful caustic irritant. Chloride of Calcium is a deliquescent salt used in the arts, and in medicine. This also, would undoubtedly be harmful to animals. If no further chemical changes resulted, Mr. Metcalf's lime and salt mixture upon hay would certainly prove an unhappy discovery. But the two new bodies tend strongly towards further changes; the caustic soda has a powerful appetite for carbonic acid which it finds in the air diffused through the hay; a union is formed, and carbonate of soda results. But this is not all. Carbonate of soda and chloride of calcium cannot remain separate—they rush together, exchange ingredients, and lo! we get back to salt again, common salt and hard, insoluble carbonate of lime remain in Mr. Metcalf's haymow after the play of chemical affinities is fairly over.

It is presumed that lime and salt mixed and strewn upon moist hay, would be influenced chemically, in a way similar to that which takes place when they are mixed and sprinkled with water. It is possible, a body of hay being porous, unequal diffusion of the carbonate of soda and chloride of calcium occurs from a point where they are formed, so that they do not unite. In this case carbonate of soda and chloride of calcium remain in the hay instead of salt and carbonate of lime. It is not probable, however, that decomposition stops short of the ultimate results, salt and chalk.

With this view, no advantages result from mixing lime with salt in curing hay, as the production of chalk (carbonate of lime) in connection with the salt, affords no additional preservative agent. All the gases involved in the changes are used in the new bodies formed, so that no agent of this nature is set free, to act as an antiseptic or destroyer of ferment. Hay treated in this way would be harmless to animals, as salt and chalk are perfectly innocuous. Very truly yours.—Jas. R. Nichols, in New England Farmer.

Stable-Bedding.

This is an advantage in two prominent ways. The benefit the stock receives from the soft, dry bed, and the manure it makes for the smaller fruits, such as strawberries, raspberries and blackberries, including the grape and other productions. It is the vegetable manure in the litter that does this. Sawdust is eminently fitter for this, but it must be dry when used. Leaves are, perhaps, better still. These are already dry; so is straw and chaff, shavings, and so forth. The product is a combination of animal and vegetable manure—what is generally needed. The proportion can be made to suit requirements. Straw has an objection, as it makes "long manure," and requires time to rot, unless ploughed under. Sawdust, leaves and chaff, as well as shavings, may be used as a top dressing at once, and as a mulch also, or, better, harrowed into the soil. As a top-dressing for meadows or pastures of course there is nothing that is better, especially if permitted to rot first. It will form a heap that is most convenient and most profitable to take from and apply to raspberries, and work into the soil with cultivator or harrow for strawberries, especially the Wilson. This requires just such treatment. Then our grapevines—what a fine ready heap it makes to take from for a mulch or to work into the soil a little! We know good farmers who do this. We have had a taste of it ourselves. Once fairly tested it will never be abandoned.

A Hint in Breeding.

Mr. Torr, the well known breeder of Short Horn cattle and Leicester sheep, in the course of some remarks at his letting of the latter, touching on breeding in general, he said: "The way to establish uniformity of family likeness is to begin by putting the best male to the best female, and to put the best to the best;" secondly, "not to put opposite characters together, or the traits of both will be lost; but if any fresh character istic is required to be imparted to the issue or present stock animals, this must be done by degree; or by that discreet selection which will yield a little more wool, or size and substance, the first year, and a little more and more the second and third generations, and so on."

Poultry Profits.

George R. Hawley, Glen's Falls, writes the Messenger of that place concerning a small experiment in poultry raising during the past season. His account embraces ten months, ending January 31st, 1867. He paid for stock, Spanish and Braham, $34,65; feed, ten months, $10,20; advertisement, $1.50. Total cost, $46,35. He sold 14 dozen eggs, at $2 per dozen, $28; chickens raised, $7; premium on poultry, $6; stock on hand, February, 1867, $34,65. Total credit, $75,65. Net balance in favor of the hens for ten months, $29,30.

ONE CERTAIN AND POSITIVE PROOF THAT DR. SARGENT'S BACK-ACHE PILLS ARE NO HUMBUG, but that they do relieve and cure such diseases as they are recommended for, is that every person who has used them speak so highly in their favor. We are daily in receipt of certificates from well known and reliable citizens, who can be called upon in case the genuineness of the certificate is doubted. The following is from a gentleman who was cured by them, and who has recommended them to others who likewise have derived benefit from them. A trial of these Pills can do no harm, as they contain nothing injurious, being entirely vegetable.

GEO. A. KELLY—Dear Sir: I was so badly afflicted with pain in the kidneys that I could barely turn myself in bed, and breathing also caused me severe pain. I had given up hopes of ever getting well again, when I bought a box of Dr. SARGENT'S BACK-ACHE PILLS, which at once relieved me, and I believe they have been the means of the cure. I have also recommended them to others where like complaints were made, and they have in every case proved efficacious. I cheerfully recommend them to any one suffering from this trouble, as I believe they are the best medicine for this class of diseases I have ever heard of. Any further information can be obtained by seeing me at Outer Depot, Penna. R. R., or at my residence, No. 65 Arthurs street. A. J. WEAVER, Conductor, Penna. Railroad. Pittsburgh, January 27, 1868.

BEAR IN MIND. When disease has undermined the health, and the physical system has become prostrated, a stimulant that will not only strengthen, but remove the cause, should be immediately resorted to. Mental distress is also a fruitful source of the breaking down of the constitution, and the ravages of this enemy to health are truly alarming. For all such maladies HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS have been found unsurpassed. By acting directly upon the digestive organs, they remove the heavy, disagreeable feeling after eating, so often complained of by persons of a delicate temperament. As soon as digestion is restored, the patient finds his strength increasing and his general health improved. Thousands of persons certify that it will be relied on in all cases of weakness or nervous debility attendant upon sedentary habits. If the general run of bitters are so disagreeable to the taste that they are objectionable to a weak stomach. This is not the case with HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, which will be found mild and extremely pleasant. Balsamic plants, barks and roots contribute their restorative juices to render it soothing and strengthening. Its basis is the only pure stimulant which has ever been produced containing no fusil oil or any other deleterious element. The most careful and skilful chemists have analyzed the Bitters and pronounce them harmless. This is scientific testimony; but the testimony of the hundreds of thousands who have experienced the preventive and curative effects of the great vegetable tonic and alterative of modern times is still more conclusive. In Fever and Ague, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Nervous Complaints and general debility it is as nearly infallible as anything in this fallible world can be.

Chronic Diseases. The functions of the human body give way, usually one at a time. A disordered liver, or a slight irritation of the bronchial tubes, an obstruction in the skin or of the renal organs, are sure to be followed by pains and aches in various parts, according to the extent of the organic or functional injury. A man afflicted with dyspepsia will soon find more than the stomach at fault. The food that he swallows fails to renew the natural wear and waste, the worn out matter is deposited in some nook or cranney, where it causes irritation or pain, when it ought to be thrown off and carried out of the system. Hundreds and thousands of just such sufferers have been relieved and restored to health and vigor by a few bottles of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER, which not only imparts tone to the stomach and digestive organs, but likewise enriches the blood with the elementary principles needful to the restoration of the vital energy of the system. Be careful when you ask for it to get DR. KEYSER'S, for that is the kind, and the only kind, that has cured the numberless cases of disordered and broken constitutions. It was that which cured Mr. Boyd. It was that which cured John Titsell. It was that which cured Margaret McFarland. It was Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher which cured all the old chronic cases which we have published from time to time in these columns. Dr. Keyser's Blood Searcher has cured more cases of chronic diseases than any medicine of recent origin. Sold by the gross, dozen, or single bottle, at the Doctor's great medicine store, No. 140 WOOD STREET. Dr. Keyser's consultations rooms, 120 Penn St. January 28th, 1868.

THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE

The largest daily paper in the State of Pennsylvania, enters the 82nd year of its existence with increased facilities for disseminating the current news of the day, and for rendering good political service in the important Presidential Canvass of 1868. The forthcoming session of Congress promises to prove one of the most important held since the formation of the Government, and the proceedings will be anxiously watched by the intelligent masses. In view of the deep interest centered in the proceedings, the proprietors of the GAZETTE have made arrangements for daily dispatches and letters during the session, from a highly intelligent correspondent, who enjoys the confidence and friendship of the leading members of the Senate and House, the heads of the various Departments, and the leading politicians who frequent Washington, so that readers can depend on receiving the first, fullest and most reliable intelligence from the seat of Government.

The proceedings of the State Legislature, at its forthcoming session, will also prove interesting, inasmuch as many questions of importance will come up for legislation. The GAZETTE will keep at the State Capital, during the entire session, an intelligent and faithful correspondent, who will promptly report the proceedings by mail and telegraph.

It is the only political journal of Pittsburgh which faithfully reflects and steadily advocates the principles held by the Union Republican Party, and interpreted by a loyal Congress.

It gives as much reading matter as any paper sold at twelve dollars per annum, while its price is but eight, being the cheapest as well as the largest newspaper in the Commonwealth.

With the enlargement, every department has been strengthened. The high character of its editorial columns will be maintained, and all questions of public importance will be fearlessly discussed.

The news department will be kept up to the requirements of the day, and in condensed items will faithfully mirror all the transactions worthy of note of the City, State, Country and world at large, and maintain for the GAZETTE the reputation of a live, enterprising and first class family and commercial newspaper.

Ample space has been reserved for market reports, which can at all times be relied upon as correct, as the current quotations for manufactures, farm products, cattle, &c., &c., are daily gathered from actual sales, by faithful and efficient reporters.

The river news is collected with care, and will prove a very interesting feature of the GAZETTE.

The financial news department has been placed in charge of an able and experienced banker, who will render it quite an attractive and useful specialty to bankers, brokers and business men generally.

The religious department will receive the attention due its importance, and will be so conducted as to be pleasing and readable to members of all religious denominations.

The agricultural, art, science, literary, personal and other departments of the paper will be conducted in a manner which will prove satisfactory to the reader.

TERMS OF THE DAILY GAZETTE.

Six Months	4.00.

THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

The WEEKLY GAZETTE has been enlarged to the same size as the Daily, and is now the largest, cheapest and best weekly family newspaper in the State. It should be in the house of every farmer, mechanic and business man. It gives each week forty solid columns of current news by telegraph and mail, the leading editorials of the daily, and a choice selection of literary and scientific items, together with everything important pertaining to the world of politics. Its agricultural columns will be edited in such a manner as to find favor with the farmer and gardener. The market reports of the WEEKLY GAZETTE are by common consent acknowledged to be the standard authority for both buyers and sellers, and in commercial circles in Western Pennsylvania, Eastern Ohio and Western Virginia are without equal. The files of the GAZETTE are used exclusively by the Civil Courts of Allegheny county, as reference in important issues, to determine the ruling prices in the market at the time of the business transaction in dispute.

Our Agents will favor us by getting up their clubs at once, and not allowing their present ones to expire, as we are anxious that none of our readers should be deprived of a week's news. Additions to clubs can be made at any time, at yearly rates. Postmasters and Merchants are requested to act as Agents.

TERMS FOR THE WEEKLY GAZETTE.

A new and novel arrangement for having
HOT WATER BOILERS

MOONLIGHT AND DARKNESS.

Lights upon the water dancing,
Eyes beneath the mountain glancing,
Words spoken low;
Filled my heart with tender fancying,
Long, long ago.
Clouds above a dark sea bending,
Sighs with sad sea breezes blending,
Words wild with woe,
All my heart with fears were rending
Long, long ago.
Years that brought with them estranging,
Hopes and fancies all deranging,
Hearts altered so;
Love, like life, forever changing,
Since long ago.

EPHEMERIS.

—Wisconsin has abolished Kerosene from railway cars.

—Putnam is growing in interest. The New York Evening Post says so.

—Butler and Banks are both willing to succeed Mr. Sumner in the Senatorial chair next year.

—General Butler takes it as a personal insult, if any young man becomes spooney on his daughter.

—Alf Burnett has his show at the Assembly Buildings in Philadelphia, and seems to like it, as he stays.

—The best way to get down from a church steeple is given by a cotemporary in one word—Perspire.

—Connecticut used to have blue laws, as every one knows; now it has blue birds as the Hartford Post tells us.

—Women are allowed to practice law in Kansas, but thus far they haven't done so, though a few of them preach it.

—Dolby is a father, by cable. The telegram cost $50. If he was pleased or not we are unable, personally, to state.

—Rev. James Gibbons, of Baltimore, has been appointed Bishop of North Carolina, by the Pope, and will soon be consecrated.

—The Cincinnati Common Council petitions to be abolished; whether as common nuisances or common scolds we have not heard.

—Mr. Murdoch, the eminent tragedian, is suffering from congestion of the lungs, and has been obliged to postpone his Boston readings.

—Hogs and hominy are said to be very scarce in the South. We believe probably that hominy is, but have our doubts about the hogs.

—Miss Kellogg is moving in the best society in Nice; if she moves rapidly or otherwise we do not know, but that she does it gracefully who can doubt.

—Eugenie has had so many American friends that she has become passionately fond of shopping, a vice which generally exists in perfection only in American cities.

—California has an eight hour bill. A man once won an elephant in a lottery. California and the man resemble each other in not knowing what to do with their prize.

—The Boston Journal says that Mr. Wells's Grant Johnson letter reminds it of the Dutchman's answer when asked his opinion, "I dinks vat you dinks. Vat you dinks I eh !"

—The French Academy thus speaks of General John Meredith Read, Jr., the brilliant author of the article on Charles Dickens in the January number of the Northern Monthly.

—A Toronto paper perpetrated a quiet bull recently when it said that small-pox was raging fearfully in all classes in that city, and that but very few people were aware of the fact.

—Hon. Robert Dale Owen is preparing a new volume on spiritualism; a new series of footprints, which have probably by this time, gotten a little ways beyond the boundaries of the other world.

—The Passamaquaddy Indians are not so liberal as they might be with their officials; they pay their Governor $50 a year, a sum on which he is not likely to live riotously or to save much for the future.

—A native canoe made of the hide of a sea lion is attracting much attention at the Treasury Department at Washington. It was brought from Alaska by Captain Howard of the revenue cutter Lincoln.

—A New Yorker has hit on a way to save $20 a year, he goes home in a crowded car and so eludes the conductor as to leave without paying his fare, which, remarks an exchange, is not fair to the conductor.

—The King of Bavaria has gotten over his penchant for Wagner, and allows his people to have a little of the music of the past and present now, they having become like himself, weary of that of the future.

—The distribution of tickets for the Dickens reading at New Haven was such an obvious fraud that Mr. Dickens was obliged to succumb to the honest popular indignation and postpone his reading until a fair distribution could be made.

—If General Grant drinks, and we shan't commit ourselves on the question, even the most coppery sheets admit that it is done in a genteel and expensive manner. The Boston Post says that he does it only when campagne cocktails are abundant.

—The Boston Post says "Geary does not care to be Vice President just yet." We don't like to accuse any paper of misrepresentation, and we have no idea of saying that the Post did not believe what it was saying, so we will let the statement pass.

—Mrs. Lander we feel sure has been prosperous, and we are heartily glad of it, for she is a noble woman. We feel sure she has been prosperous, because she has just added two thousand dollars worth of diamonds to her costume, when as Elizabeth she is en grande tenue.

—General Sheridan denies that he is to be married, and we really do not believe that any one knows more about it, or can be more interested in it personally than he is. But the New York papers assert that he is to be married, and so we have another fine question of veracity.

—The Cunard steamer on which Mr. Train went to Queenstown made so quick a passage that his agent sent over on a steamer of a rival line, several days before, had barely time to make the proper arrangements for his arrest and G. F. nearly lost the eclat he went over for.

—"The Academy, which was not a stranger to the literary works of the distinguished author, has welcomed with lively interest his historical researches concerning 'Henry Hudson,' and it has recommended to the attention of its members the study of the precious volume."

—A Boston newspaper calls Swinburnes "Laus Veneris" an obscene book and ranks it with the filthy papers published in Boston and New York. It would be just about as well to class the works of Solomon, Dante, Shakspeare, Goethe and in fact all the most stupendous literary men of the world in the same category.

—Mr. Eugene Haywood is only twenty-two years old, yet he owns fifty thousand acres of land in Illinois and twelve thousand in Nebraska. His estates equal in size some principalities, and surpass in size that one which was offered by the Emperor of Austria to Napoleon, when but a general, as a bribe or a sop to his ambition.

—A New England sheet, noted for its attempts at venom, asserts that in order to render Gen. Grant's recent reception a success five thousand office holders were ordered to attend it. We know, or can at least imagine just how much ordering it needs to get a crowd at the house of a man who, in all probability, will be the next Chief Executive of the nation.

—The King of Greece is the son of one King, the nephew of another, has an Emperor for a father-in-law, and occupies a throne himself, and yet whenever the weather will permit he and his wife walk to church, thus affording an example to Americans who ought to remember that a full day of rest occasionally is as pleasant and as necessary to their coachmen as to themselves.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

J. B. HARRIS'

SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stoves, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors, are made dangerous by being overheated, and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

PAR AND INTEREST.

THE

Central Pacific Railroad

The best and principal portion of the

NATIONAL TRUNK LINE ACROSS THE CONTINENT,

Is being rapidly carried forward by an unprecedented working force; and it is reasonably certain that the CONTINUOUS OVERLAND RAILROAD CONNECTION FROM NEW YORK TO SAN FRANCISCO WILL BE MADE IN 1870.

The United States Government furnishes, upon a subordinate and contingent lien, half the means for constructing the Main Stem Line; and besides an absolute grant of 12,800 acres of valuable public lands per mile, the Central Pacific Railroad Company have received from California sources, donations and concessions worth more than $3,000,000. The available resources of this Company are therefore abundant for the purpose, amounting to $77,000,000 on the first 726 miles of the Line, including Loans secured by a First Mortgage upon the whole property, to the same amount only as the U. S. Subsidy Bonds.

The results already attained, although under comparatively unfavorable circumstances, afford substantial ground for believing the CENTRAL PACIFIC to the Most Favored, Productive and Valuable Railroad Enterprise in the Country.

In consequence of the large and rapidly increasing demand, the price of these Bonds has been advanced, and the Company are now offering for sale a limited amount of their

First Mortgage Six Per Cent. Bonds,

Principal and interest payable in GOLD COIN, in sums of $1,000 each, at par and accrued interest from January 1st, in currency.

These Bonds, it is believed, possess the elements of safety, reliability and profit in a greater degree, than any other class of Corporate Securities now offered, and are therefore very desirable for steady investments of surplus capital. Investors will bear in mind the following advantages:

I. They are the first mortgage on one of the most valuable and productive lines of railroad in the world.

II. The actual earnings from local business in 1867 were more than four times the annual interest engagements.

III. The hard part of the road is now done, and the prospects of rapid completion are favorable.

IV. The Company have liberal subsidies, which enable them to prosecute the work with great vigor.

V. The management has been exceedingly prudent and frugal.

VI. There is already a large and growing settlement on the completed and graded line.

VII. The lands promise to be of immense value, 27,408 acres having been already sold.

VIII. Both principal and interest are explicitly made payable in gold coin.

IX. Both the aggregate amount of issue and their standing in Europe will insure for them continued activity and a high rank among standard securities.

At this time they yield nearly

Nine per cent. upon the Investment.

Holders of Government Securities have an opportunity of exchanging them for Central Pacific Bonds, bearing an equal rate of interest, with the principal abundantly secured, and of realizing a profit of ten to fifteen per cent. in addition.

Orders sent with the funds through responsible Banks or Express Companies will receive prompt attention. Bonds sent by return Express, to any address in the United States, at our cost. Information, Descriptive Pamphlets, Maps, &c., furnished on application at the office of the Railroad Company.

With other improvements, and which is planted with choice Fruit Trees, Shrubbery, &c. The lot is one of the finest in the Borough.

One half at confirmation of sale, and the balance in one year, with interest, secured by bond and mortgage on the premises.

SAMUEL GASTON, Trustee,

ORPHANS' COURT SALE.

Splendid Mansion and Grounds.

On TUESDAY, February 25th, 1868, at 1 o'clock P. M., will be sold at auction, by order of Orphans' Court, an outlot on the Eastern border of the Borough of Beaver, containing about TEN ACRES. About one-half is a beautiful grove, the residue well improved and planted with apple and peach trees, and a variety of small fruits and shrubbery. The improvements comprise a fine two story BRICK MANSION HOUSE, with four rooms on each floor, exclusive of kitchen, wash house and coal house. A good well and cistern and large barn.

The location is one of the most picturesque and beautiful in Beaver county, commanding a fine view of the Ohio and Beaver rivers, and of the several villages that cluster near their confluence. It is also extremely eligible with reference to Schools, Churches, Railroad Stations, &c. Probably no place now in the market combines as many conveniences and attractions suited to a gentleman that desires for his residence a spot at the same time secluded from the noise and din of business and quickly and easily accessible from Pittsburgh. This property was the homestead of the late Thomas Henry, Esq., late of Beaver. Terms, which will be easy, made known at time of sale.

Persons visiting this Estate will be attended to and all questions answered by Capt. D. H. TONE, Executor of the estate of Charles Stone, residing on adjoining lot. [illegible]

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, February 17, 1868.

Gold opened at a decline from Saturday's quotations, but towards noon, the market was strong at 141¼; closing steady at 141½. The rise within the last three days is due to an effort to tax bonds which caused a decline of ½ per cent. in our securities in England and Frankfort, and the combination of cliques who succeeded to buy largely during the decline. Judging from the sudden advance in cotton in England from 7¾d to 9¾d, bills of exchange ought to be quite plenty, and the low rate of exchange should prevent the shipping of coin and thus cause a decline in the premium rather than an advance.

Bonds advanced with the rise in gold, except Five Twenties of 1862 and 1865; the market for Consols and 1867 bonds is strong, with very light offerings.

The stock market is less active, except in Cleveland and Pittsburgh and Michigan Southern. In Mining shares the transactions are very large at advanced prices. Some of the companies have commenced to work their mines again, and show a determination to make the property valuable.

Money is getting easier, especially for short paper well endorsed. Some of our heaviest manufacturers find it difficult to obtain all they need from their banks, and have to resort to private lenders at high rates.

The advance of cotton in England caused a sharp and material advance in domestic goods and more activity in that line of business.

Closing New York quotations, received by Ph. R. Mertz, are as follows:

Gold, 141½; 1881's, 112; 5-20s, 1862, 111⅜; 1864, 109; 1865, 109¾; Consols, 108; 10-40s, 104⅝; 7-30s, 107⅛.

—The Financial Chronicle contends that the public debt did not increase last month, its real aggregate being on the 1st of January $2,622,221,673, and on the first of February $2,621,785,406. Not only the capital of the debt but also the aggregate interest has decreased during the month, the coin interest having fallen from $19,334,326 to $17,790,431, and the currency interest from $130,691,154 to $130,454,821. The subjoined remarks are made on the currency:

"We are apparently entering now upon an epoch of expansion and speculative excitement. Had Mr. McCulloch been content last autumn to suspend contraction as he had done without necessity during the previous summer, he would probably have been still in possession of the power of drawing in and cancelling greenbacks, now that contraction may safely be ventured upon, and would be a healthful relief of the existing plethora. But for the present the people have become disgusted with contraction, because it has been so done as to produce suffering. We shall be surprised, however, if the evils arising from inflated prices and from the exaggerated expenses of living do not in a short time call forth a general demand for renewed contraction. To meet that demand when it arises, our financial Statesmen will do well to prepare themselves with a method of contraction free from the imperfection which has caused the old plan of contraction to be rejected by the general consent of the nation. No man could confer at this moment a more valuable benefit on Congress than to devise for us a plan of contracting the currency which, while effective for lessening the redundant amount of greenbacks, shall be elastic enough to apply itself to so delicate and unmanageable an instrument as an inflated currency has always proved in the various stages of transition from depreciation to par."

—The Memphis Avalanche of Tuesday, says: We will be able in a few days to present to the public, a statement of the assets and liabilities of the Gayoso Bank. The officers of the bank, and especially the President, Mr. Lanier, will do all in their power to realize and turn over to the creditors the assets. Mr. Mosby, the receiver appointed, is a gentleman of high standing, and he will administer to the creditors justly, and as speedily as the assets can be turned into money. The suspension of the Gayoso Bank involved all the banks in the city, more or less. Whether they will be able to pass through the ordeal, is a question time will alone solve.

—The Boston Post, of Saturday, reports money matters in that city as follows: Money continues abundant and cheap. Borrowers are comparatively scarce. The business at most of the banks to-day was on a very moderate scale, and several report it the most quiet week of the season. Those whose depositors are largely composed of parties in the retail trade appear to be doing the best just now. General business shows a slight gain, as compared with the past two or three months, but there is still room for improvement. Capitalists are distrustful in regard to the financial action of Congress, and consequently act with great caution in making large investments. Bank discounts are nominally steady at 6 to 6½ per cent., but there are transactions at 5½, and those who keep a good account are in some cases accommodated at 5¼, if they object to paying more. On the other hand, there were more or less names, considered very good, offering to-day at 7 to 7½ per cent., although few parties well known are willing to submit to anything above 7. Demand loans are mostly placed at 5 per cent., with frequent exceptions at 4 on Governments. There is a great deal of money in the hands of individuals received for January interest, dividends, etc., which is daily available in the open market, at easy rates, on call loans, provided the collateral is satisfactory.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, February 17, 1868.

CRUDE—The market was very quiet to-day, not a single transaction reported, but prices remain unchanged. Spot oil is still quoted at 7½@7¾c; March and April, seller's option, 7¾@7⅞c; May 8@8½c; and all the year, buyer's option, at 11½@12c. The demand, both for present and future delivery, is by no means pressing, though there are full as many buyers as there are sellers, and sellers are fully as diffident about selling as buyers are about buying. The impression is still gaining strength that in no event can prices go much below where they are at present, and the chances, if anything, favor an advance, and this view of the trade seems to be quite popular among crude dealers. Another argument that may be advanced to support this view of the case, is the fact that the exporting season is rapidly approaching, and refiners will soon, if not already, feel like stocking up for the spring and summer campaign.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil closed very firm and somewhat excited this evening, in view of a still further advance in Antwerp, 43 francs being the quotation from that point to-day. As yet, however, prices are no higher, but refiners seemed disposed to hold back in anticipation of better prices, and as a consequence, there are but few sellers at present. We can report 500 bbls for first half of March, at 23c, and 1500 for all the year, buyer's option, at 30c. There were offers to buy this month at 22½c, but no sellers, and there would be no difficulty in selling a "line" running from May to December, at 25c for May, and advancing half a cent each subsequent month. It is difficult to conjecture at this writing what the present little "flurry" amount to, but we are in hopes that we are soon to have a stronger market and better prices.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, February 17, 1868.

The general markets continue dull and devoid of any new characteristics worthy of special notice. As a general thing, the demand for almost everything is restricted to supplying immediate wants, while prices are without any important change.

GRAIN—The Grain market is very dull and neglected, with the exception of Barley, of which the supply in this market is almost exhausted. Winter Wheat is quiet and unchanged at $2,40 for Red, and $2,50 for White. Oats dull but unchanged; one dealer informed us that he tried very hard to sell a car load at 66c, but failed; small sales in store at 68@70. Ear Corn is selling in small lots at $1,10@1,12. Shelled is dull, with offers to sell at $1, on track. Barley is wanted at $1,90@2. Rye is unchanged at $1,35@1,40.

FLOUR—is quiet and unchanged. Small sales at $10,50@11 50 for Spring Wheat; $12@12 50 for Winter Wheat, and $14@15 for fancy brands. Rye is nominal at $8@8,25 in store. Buckwheat is unchanged at $4,25@4,50 per cwt.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm, but prices are irregular; one house quotes at 11c for Shoulders; 13c for Ribbed Sides, and 17c for Sugar Cured Hams another quotes Shoulders at 10½ to 10¾; Ribbed Sides at 12¼ to 12¾c, and Sugar Cured Hams at 16¼ to 16½c. Lard, 14½ to 14¾c, in tierces, and 15@15½c, in kegs. Mess Pork, $23@23,50.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged; we continue to give 95c for No. 2, and $1,17 for No. 1 as the manufacturers prices, and the market is firm.

POTATOES—Continue dull, notwithstanding the receipts continue light; small sales in store at $1@1,10 per bushel, and $3@3½ per barrel.

HOMINY—Sales to the trade at $6¼@6¾ per bbl, and $7 in a retail way.

BEANS—Prime Navy Beans are scarce, and are being sold in a retail way at $4 per bushel.

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, February 17, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was a full supply of cattle on sale today, and with the bad weather, an unusually small number of buyers, and a diminished demand, the market was generally conceded to be the hardest experienced at these yards for several weeks. There were no eastern buyers in attendance, and the butchers did not, apparently, buy with as much freedom as usual, and with some of them, more particularly those who buy good cattle, the less meat they sell the better off they are, as it is a losing business at present prices. Compared with last week, some drovers reported a decline of 50c per cwt, while others asserted that there was a difference of fully a dollar—we think however, that 50c is about right. Prime to extra fat cattle sold at from 8@9c, and good to fairish butchers stock may be quoted at 6¼@7¼c. One thing that tends to retard business is the present extreme prices, and there are many reasons why it should be so; both drovers and butchers are complaining about losing money, and it is fully as hard on consumers, many families have to deny themselves, and we have no doubt some of our poor have to do without meat altogether. Stock cattle were in fair demand and limited supply, and may be quoted at 5¼@6c, as to quality and condition.

Stakely & Bro. sold 3 bulls at 4; 2 fairish steers at 6¾; 7 head heifers, averaging 700, at 5¼; and 8 cows at $45 per head.

Peter Hartman reports 20 head Chicago cattle at 6¼@7½.

Marks & Trautman sold 63 head Chicago stock at 7¼@8½; and 29 head from Ohio at 5 to 7.

Louis Rothchilds sold 25 head Chicago stock at 7¼@7½.

Kraus & Haas sold 43 head Chicago stock at 6¾@7¾; 17 head from Ohio at 5¼@8—17 head left over.

M. Verner sold 20 head of commission cattle at 6¼@7¾.

Miles & McAdams wholesaled 19 head of prime to extra Pickaway Co. (Ohio) cows and heifers at 7@10.

Carr & McAllister had 37 head of Belmont Co (Ohio) steers owned by Chas. Shomaker; sold 19 head at 7¼@8¾—18 head left over unsold.

Myers & Needy sold 46 head of Ohio cattle at 7 to 8½; 35 head of Chicago stockers at 5.70; 36 head of Chicago fat cattle at 7@8¼; and 2 extra Licking Co. steers, weighing 4700 lbs—sold to Fred Beilsteine (butcher) at 10.

Greenwald & Kahn report having retailed 75 head of Chicago cattle at 7¼@9.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 33 head Chicago cattle at 6½@8¼.

Jas. Dolan had 48 head of prime Chicago cattle, but being unable to get his price, he will doubtless ship them east.

Glass, Lafferty & Co. sold 76 head commission cattle at 3 to 8½; sold 2 extra cattle to Hugh Richardson (butcher) at 9¼.

Hedges & Taylor sold 13 head for Erisman at 7@8, 9 for Browning at 5; and 13 for Keenan at 6¼@8.

Nicholas Carr retailed 20 head for Shomaker at 6½@8.

We were somewhat surprised to find John Kerwin buying bulls again to-day, assisted by his indefatigable partner, John McAllister. It is all right, however, as the animals are brought here to sell, and Messrs. K. & McA. have as much right to buy them as anybody else.

E. Katz sold 13 head of mixed Ohio stock for Rosenbaugh at 3½ to 6¼.

Wm. Reis, an old drover, but who at present is engaged in butchering at New Castle, Pa., was at the Yards to-day, visiting his old friends and acquaintances.

SHEEP.

There was an unusually large number of Sheep on sale to-day, and the market, as a matter of course, was a pretty hard one, especially for the commoner grades, of which the offerings mostly consisted. Prime fat mutton Sheep, of which there were but comparatively few, brought a fair price, 6¾ to 6¼, but common and inferior sold at all kinds of prices—holders, as a general thing, being obliged to accept whatever buyers saw proper to offer.

Stakely & Bro. had 200 head on sale; sold 26 head of prime at $5,80 per cwt., and 179 at $2,25 per head.

G. K. McCaslin sold 120 head of common Lawrence Co. Sheep at $2 to $3 per head.

I. Emmili sold 49 head of prime Butler Co. Sheep, averaging 100 lbs, at 6.

Martland sold 50 head of prime fat Sheep at 6¼.

Jacob Rinn had 68 head on commission; sold 37 at 5 20 to 5.75.

Glass, Lafferty & Co. had 300 head on sale; sold 83 head, at an average of 5c—balance left over.

HOGS.

There was a fair supply of Hogs on sale today, and the market was only moderately active, the butchers taking hold very sparingly at the present extreme prices. In a retail way prices ranged from 9 to 10½ for fair to prime heavy averages.

Myers & Needy wholesaled 70 head to Emerick & Co. at 9¼, and retailed 50 head at 8 to 9.

Glass, Lafferty & Co. sold 15 head at 8 85.

Rothchilds & Byers retailed about 100 head during the week at 9 to 10¼.

Emerick & Co., we presume, sold about their usual number, between 400 and 500 at 8¼ to 10½.

New York Produce Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

California flour is active with sales of 2,800 sacks at $12.75@14.00. Rye flour firmer with sales of 350 bbls at 7.50@9.40. Whiskey is nominal and prices are unchanged. Receipts of wheat 17,80; more active without decided change, 4,900 bushels at $2.43. No. 2 spring $2,46 mixed spring $2.52, No. 1 spring to arrive at $2,65. Red Penna. $3,18 for white California. Malt firm; sales of 1,600 bushels at $2.00. Corn; receipts of 89,150, bushels; the market is less active and scarcely so firm; sales of 55,000 bus at $1.28 afloat; $1,29 for choice do, and $1,22@1.27 for new white southern. Oats; the receipts were 5,050 bushels; the market is more active and prices are lower, with sales of 77,000 bushels at 83½c for western in store, and 85½c do afloat. The following is the stock of grain in warehouse: Wheat, 1,419,134 bushels; corn, 1,718,895 bushels; rye, 149,147 bushels; oats, 2,041,423 bushels; barley, 75,415 bushels. Rye is quiet and unchanged. Petroleum quiet at 16¼c for crude, and 24½c for refined in bond. Pork; the market is a shade firmer and there is a moderate demand, with sales of 950 barrels at $22,62@22,75 for new mess, closing at $22,68¾ regular; $22,00@22,62 for old mess, closing at $22,56 regular; $18,50@19,50 for prime, and $20@21 for prime mess; also, 500 barrels new at $23,75 seller for March. STOCKS.

Stocks opened buoyant, with great excitement and activity in Erie at 77½@77¾, followed by a decline to 76¾, and a sharp rally to 78⅝. This was occasioned by the filing of a bill in Court against Daniel Drew, charging him with violation of trust in selling 58,000 shares of stock obtained in June, 1866, as security for a loan to the road, and claiming that he must return his profits thereon to the Company. An injunction has been served on Drew, restraining him from using said shares or any new stock that may have been lately made. New York Central fell to 132¼, but subsequently sold at 133. Reading, Toledo and Marietta were very active and strong. The market was buoyant at one o'clock board, and steady but dull at the second board, except Erie, which was about 1 per cent. better and excited. At the close the prices were a little off from the highest point, but still excited. The Erie suit is generally construed as a movement of Vanderbilt, and the issues involved are important, and fluctuations in stock are likely to be frequent. Mr. Drew is supposed to be short of Erie to a large amount.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather continues soft and unsettled, with a mixture of snow and rain falling at intervals, and there is every appearance of a rise in our rivers. The winter is so far advanced now, that there will not likely be another freeze-up, nor is navigation likely to be retarded again by floating ice, though we will doubtless have more cold "snaps" between now and the first of April. The river was about at a stand last evening, with four feet two inches in the channel.

The Glendale, from Wheeling, has arrived, having been released from her rather perilous position on the bank at that point a day or two ago. The Importer was due last night, and the Argosy is advertised to leave Cincinnati for Pittsburgh to-day.

The J. N. McCullough, we regret to state, met with a slight accident while on her up trip and when near Rochester, which will cause her to lose one trip. She broke one of her pistons and blowed out one of her cylinder heads, together with some other slight mishaps to her machinery, but it is expected that she will be all right and ready to leave as usual on Thursday at noon.

The Camelia, for Nashville, is filling up steadily, and will be ready to leave very soon. The Bellevernon is also announced for Saint Louis.

Capt. Stockdale's new mountain steamer is rapidly approaching completion, and will be ready in ample time to load for the Upper Missouri. Capt. W. J. Kountz is also building two steamers for the mountain trade, one of which will soon be completed. The Leni Leoti, in the course of a few weeks, will load for the mountains; in the meantime, she will continue in the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade.

SPECIAL NOTICE.—The Messenger will positively leave for St. Louis and all intermediate points this day at 4 p. m., and shippers will please send down their bills of lading as early in the day as possible.

JESSE DEAN, Captain.

The Mary Davage left Louisville for Pittsburgh on Saturday, with two heavily loaded barges.

We see it stated that the Belle Lee, on her last up trip, made the run from New Orleans to Vicksburg in thirty-four hours.

The Great Republic, on her way down, laid at Memphis from Saturday until Tuesday, during which time she received 800 bales of cotton.

They are having great times of it at Saint Louis in regard to the ice breaking up, which it is feared will prove disastrous to a large number of boats now at that port.

The Evansville Journal says: The Nick Longwood refused corn at 35c at two points above the city. The boats find that they must make money as the rates heretofore prevailing, and have advanced the rates 5 to 100 per sack, and other freights in proportion.

A Cairo correspondent of the Democrat thus relates the sudden death of the late pilot Black: On Saturday night the various members of the party retired to their rooms in their usual health. About 2 o'clock on Sunday morning, Mr. Jewitt Wilcox, one of the proprietors of the hotel was suddenly awakened by a cry for help, and rushing out of his room, perceived Mr. Black endeavoring to call a waiter, but could only with difficulty catch the words "come back." Mr. Black then went back into his room, and on the entrance of Mr. Wilcox immediately afterwards, it was found that a blood vessel had been ruptured, and Mr. Black was both bleeding and smothering to death. He endeavored to speak but could not articulate. A physician was immediately brought, but five minutes from the time Mr. Wilcox entered the room Mr. Black was a corpse. Next morning after the body had been washed and laid out by Mr. Wilcox and his assistants, he accidently met Capt. Tibbols, and made the remark that a very sudden death had occurred in the hotel this morning. The Captain asked who it was, little suspecting that he was so deeply interested in the matter. On being told, he exclaimed "My God! it is my wife's brother." Mr. Wilcox was of course very much astonished to learn the relationship but who can picture the astonishment and sorrow of the grief stricken sister on learning the terrible news that the beloved brother, from whom she had parted in such improved health the day before, had thus suddenly been taken away. A metallic coffin was procured, and the train which was to have conveyed Mr. Black and his sister to Dubuque, carried the weeping sister and her brother's corpse.

The Memphis Avalanche says of scalpers: We would admonish travelers to avoid all covered express wagons, for they are driven by men who live and make a practice of extorting from all who chance to come in their way. On the last trip of the Dee Are an old gentleman was beaten out of $26, and two poor families were victimized yesterday to the tune of $40. They have various means for extorting money, sometimes by playing wharfboat clerks, and yesterday a fellow called Red sold a man a bogus ticket, on the wharfboat, to Jacksonport.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT

CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what was to be free from the disease. I had to sit in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband Joseph Meyers, but I must confess, with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. Dr. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am today in vigorous health, and TOTALLY FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in awhile, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves it. I cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS.

GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Myers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we alluded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher had been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, SIMON P. FISHER, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery.

We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of George Ford, carpenter, of No 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there a called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and knowing the general belief of the incurability of Consumption, and having heard of cures made by DR. KEYSER, and seeing his advertisement in the newspapers, I was induced in October last to call on the Doctor at his office, 120 Penn street, and had him examine my lungs with his "LUNG SOUND." He told me the upper lobe of my left lung was very much diseased, but he thought with great care and the perseverance in the use of his medicine, I would get well. At the time I called on Dr. Keyser my pulse was over one hundred and thirty beats in a minute, and I was generally prostrated, and had to cough night and day. I commenced the Doctor's treatment in October, with a feeble, broken constitution, and continued it faithfully until the present time. The Doctor's medicines helped me from the very start, and I could gradually feel myself getting stronger, and my cough and expectoration lessening. I have gained greatly in flesh, and consider myself well; all the rattling of my lung has ceased, and my general health is in every way good. All my relatives and friends know of the advanced stage of my disease and my extraordinary recovery. One of the medicines given me by Dr. Keyser was a medicine called LUNG CURE, which I took in connection with the other treatment.

GEORGE FORD.

PITTSBURGH, March 30, 1867.

ANOTHER CURE OF CONSUMPTION.

STATEMENT OF JOHN G. WIGMAN, OF TURTLE CREEK, ALLEGHENY COUNTY.

I was discharged from the United States army in January, 1866, on account of a wound in the head, from a shell, and a disease which the army physicians pronounced CONSUMPTION. I had a terrible cough and fell away in strength and flesh and was unable to do anything. Shortly after my return from the army, I made application to a physician of my neighborhood and, afterwards, to another in Pittsburgh of high reputation, whose remedies I used faithfully for five months, without any benefit whatever, but rather grew worse, and wasted in flesh and strength every day. In August, 1866, my mother took me to DOCTOR KEYSER, at 120 Penn street, whose skill in such cases like mine had been highly spoken of and put myself under his treatment. The Doctor examined my lungs very carefully with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that my left lung was badly diseased at the upper part, but if I was careful he thought he could cure me by following his directions closely, which I did from that day to this. I gradually improved under Dr. Keyser's medicines from the first week I commenced to take them, and my general health has improved and my chest, where it was sunken away, and where it pained me, has become full and strong and free from pain. I can now do a full day's work, and take great pleasure in giving my testimony in favor of Dr. Keyser's treatment and medicines.
